

Electrical Engineer

Ultra Refrigeration Ltd is looking for an Experienced Electrical Engineer to join our Installation Team.

The ideal candidate will work in our fully equipt workshop and also on site installation where required.

The candidate should have the following experience and qualities:

Candidate Experience:

- Working with refrigeration or air conditioning equipment is preferred but not essential
- Working on 3phase and single phase circuits
- Working on control circuits
- Electrical installations
- Installing containment
- Electrical panel building
- Fault finding
- On site installation
- Knowledge of electrical components
- An ability to work from a wiring diagram
- Electrical qualification, additional training and qualifications will be sponsored by the Company as part of the candidates on going development

Qualities:

- Hard working
- Looking to learn, advance and for a secure, long-term future
- Self motivated and happy to work alone or with others
- Work to tight deadlines
- Works well under pressure
- Organised
- Trustworthy and reliable
- A strong work ethic with a desire to get the job done

In return, the Company will offer:

- Best-in-class in-house and external training and support
- Be part of a dedicated, friendly and progressive team
- Work with and learn from award-winning and published experts in refrigeration engineering
- A friendly and positive working environment
- Job security with a full-time and permanent position
- Working away allowances
- Industry specific training including 18th Edition
- Overtime
- 28 Paid holidays, increasing based on time served

Basic salary £26,000.00 to £28,000.00

+ over time

40 hours per week

Start date: as soon as possible